WERC's objective is to provide a personalized experience tailored to the individual needs of the Service Member or Spouse. We help participants identify aptitudes and abilities developed in the military, arrive at a plan for transferring them to a civilian job setting, and assist program participants in understanding and mastering key job-search resources and services for optimal job placement. This objective will be reached through:

- Résumé creation or review
- Application assistance, mock interviews, education options, special classes and encouragement
- Program training and career counseling services
- Thorough assessment of skills, knowledge, abilities and relevant experience
- Connecting participants to available jobs

WERC bridges the gap between qualified Service Members and quality employers through analysis of Service Member and employer needs.

WERC recognizes that state and local agencies are working on initiatives to build a robust workforce and we realize that no single agency or organization will achieve this goal on its own. WERC's intention is to partner with state and local agencies, such as the Department of Workforce Development, Job Centers, and Community Colleges, as a complementary resource that helps participants seek and secure gainful employment.

Through partnerships such as those outlined above, WERC establishes links between existing services and resources. The result is job placement for Service Members as well as an increasingly skilled workforce for employers.

Military commitments, as well as family and personal responsibilities, make securing full time civilian employment difficult in today's economy. The Wisconsin Employment Resource Connection team helps provide the tools needed for participants to achieve their employment and education goals.
